According to the direction of Supreme court Justice Bischoff, the case of Delaney and Brown came up in the Centre street police court before Magistrate Ommen yesterday morning. The prisoners were arraigned on the original warrant, under which they had been taken into custody, and, on motion of Senator Grady, opposed by Deputy Assistant District Attorney. and, on motion of Senator Grady, op-posed by Deputy Assistant District Attorney Johnstone, they were discharged. They were immediately rearrested on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Henry Schoenlein on July 30. The complaint on which this warrant was issued was sworn to by James McMahon on July 29, and harged William Delaney and Joseph Brown with "atrocious assault with intent to kill said James McMahon, in the city of Long Branch on the 9th day of July, 1903."

The warrant and an exemplified copy the complaint were produced in cour and Mr. Johnstone requested that Magistrate Ommen issue a warrant for the arrest of the accused in the State of New York. McMahon, who was in court, swore to the truth of the affidavit he had made before Justice Schoenlein, whereupon Magistrate Ommen issued a warrant and Delaney and Brown were rearrested. When the warrant Brown were rearrested. When the warrant had been served Mr. Johnstone requested an immediate examination. Senator Grady asked for an adjournment, the motion was granted and the examination of the prisoners set down for this morning at 10:30

While the prisoners were in the police court. Delaney was asked by the reportif he had anything to say. He re-Dere hain't nothin' to this. Say, dunno where Long Branch is; never was there in me life. Now, here's de trut I left here wid some pais on July 5 to goon a fishin' trip up in Connecticut. I dere until de 17, when I comes back I ben here ever since. It's a cinch. I can prove dis, and dat's all dere is to it."

These remarks were supplemented by elaneves brother-in-law, Patrick Rey-Delaney's brother-in-law, Patrick Reynolds, Mr. Reynolds, who appears to be a nan well on toward 60, seemed to be very much wrought up over some of the state-ments that have been printed in the newspapers regarding his young brother-in-

This boy has been hounded by the police and arrested time and time again, but was never convicted of a crime in his life. They say he's a thug and a crook and a run-ner of dives, but I tell you it's all false. You may have noticed that McClusky has got pretty busy over this case.

"Now, I want you to understand that I don't know this Mr. Lamar and neither do these boys, but I understand he's a big man down in Wall Street. Well, you know McClusky got rain out of the Detective Bureau some time ago. You know who was responsible for his bein' chased? No? Well, I'll tell you. It was this Mr. Lamar. He was the man that done it and now McClasky is trying to get square. Delaney went up into Connecticut or somewheres on July 5 and he come back on the 9th and he's been here ever since. He didn't have any more to do with this Long Branch business than you did."

If may have been an inadvertence on
Mr. Reynolds's part, but he had Delaney back in New York eight days before De-laney said he got here. Furthermore, the day on which Mr. Reynolds says his brother-in-law returned to town was the day on which McMahon was assaulted in Long Branch. Reynolds's information relong Branch. Reynolds's information regarding the cause of Inspector McClusky s removal from the Detective Bureau by Big Bill Devery was referred to the inspector, and he said:

This is remarkably interesting news l always understood that I was removed from the bureau because Mr. Devery didn't like me. I never spoke to David Lamae in my life, and if he were instrumental in bringing about my removal it seems to me that Devery is the man to talk to. He ought to know all about it and ought to be able to give you some valuable information on the subject."

who appeared to be in charge of the Two new identifications of Delaney and Brown, in connection with the McMahon Brown, in connection with the McMahon assault, were made in the police court yesterday morning. The most important of these was that of Constable George Van Winkle of Long Branch. He was standing near McMahon when the assault occurred, and in court yesterday he positively identified both Delaney and Brown as being two of three men who participated in the assault. After he had made the meeting.

Mr. McCall checkmated this ruling by to a SUN man said: "I saw the assault and saw Delaney and Brown participate in it. I cannot possibly be mistake, in my identification or two he opened it and bade the reporter and, furthermore, I can produce several other witnesses to the assault, among them a woman who can identify Delaney as the person who said to one of the assailants. Give it to him good and put him out, or words to that effect. I grabbed Delaney and we had it all over the sidewalk for a second or two, when he doubled me up with a blow in the stomach. Then he and the others ran down the street and about a block away from where the assault occurred got into a carriage and drove away The other identification was made by Charles Green, the proprietor of the Lenox Hotel at Long Branch. He identified both Delaney and Brown as being persons who stayed at his house on the evening of July and who were called at 4:30 o'clock of the norning of July 6 to go, as they said, fishing off Seabright.

Detective Charles E. Strong of Long Branch was in the police court yes-terday morning and he made a recapitulation of the evidence which the Long Branch authorities have against Delaney and Brown and against David Lamar and his brotherin-law, Bernard Smith, who are charged with being accomplices in the assault upon

McMahon. Mr. Strong said:
"Up to date we have made out the fol-lowing case against Delaney and Brown: They were identified by McGill, bartender e American Hotel at East Long Branch as being the men who were brought to that hotel on July 6 by David Lamar, who instructed McGill to give the men what they wanted and charge it to him. Lamar afterward paid the bill. This morning these men were identified by Constable Van Winkle as actual participants in the assault and by Charles Green, proprietor of the Lenox Hotel, Long Branch, as being per-sons who stayed at his place on the night

The interview ended with the request on the part of Mr. Lamar that he should be reported with accuracy and to the effect that he had nothing to say regarding anything in general and the McMahon case in day that Delaney, Brown and another man appeared in Long Branch. On that day appeared in Long Branch. On that day, July 6 Dunphy told McMahon that Lamar had hired a gang to do him up and for against Lamar's brother-in-law, Smith, be-cause of the fact that the carriage which he hired of Charles McCue of Seabright on the morning that McMahon was assault was the carriage which drove Delaney, Brown and another man to Cunningham's Brown and another man to Cunningham's Hotel at Oceanic, from which place Smith got the team and returned it to McCue. We have at least four witnesses to the assault besides Constable Van Winkle who can identify Delaney and Brown as McMahon's assailants. It is not true as recorded in the leaves of the control of the leaves of the control of the leaves of the control of the leaves of the leave reported in the papers this morning that warrants for two other persons were issued in Long Branch yesterday and sent to Dis-trict Attorney Jerome last night. COUNT CONFESSES BRIBERY.

HUNGARIAN DIET SCANDAL IS EXPOSED.

Opposition Will Attempt to Force Out the Prime Minister-Count Szapary's Confession Exenerates Hin:-Guilty Man Wanted to Save the Government.

Special Cable Desputch to THE SUN. BUDAPEST, July 31 -A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Martin Dienes, a tormer Deputy in the Hungarian Parliament, who is charged with attempted bribery and forgery in connection with the Indemn.ty bill, which is a measure for the amendment of the taxation laws

Count Ladislaus Szapary, who resigned his post as Governor of Fiume a few days ago following the attempted bribery exposures in the Diet, has admitted his responsibility in the bribery matter, although it is said that he has been the tool of political adventurers.

Inasmuch as he is intimate with Prime Minister Count Khuen-Hedervary suspicion falls on the latter. M. Kossuth, who, owing to the scandal, has resumed his abandoned leadership of the Independents, has demanded in the Chamber that the Prime Minister resign and clear himself. This the Prime Minister refused to do. but promised to make a full statement to the commission of inquiry The Chamber elected a commission of fifteen members, and then adjourned until Aug. 10. It is said that Count Szapary visited the Prime Minister, and, weeping, confessed that with the best intentions, and hoping to save the country from catastrophe, he fell into the error of attempting to bribe the obstructionists in the Chamber. The incident has caused a sensation throughout the country. The Indepen-dents have formally resolved to do their utmost to "oust the corrupt Government." Count Szapary is one of the richest mag-

The was formerly secretary of the Austrian Embassy in London. It seems to be true that he fell into a trap laid by the opponents of the Government. It is stated that Dienes, to whom Count Szapary savs he paid money, is fleeing to America by way of London, and that he is accompanied by an unnamed member of the Diet, whose mission it is to see that he gets safely out of the country in order to prevent further evelations that will compromise aristocratic politicians.

The commission of inquiry met this evening. Count Julius Ardrassy presiding. Count Szapary was called to testify. He confessed, pleaded his good intention and asked pardon for his act, which he admitted had injured the dignity of Parliament. He solemnly declared that the Prime Minister was absolutely ignorant of the bribery.

CAN'T FIND CUBAN REBELS. Story of a Revolt in Santiago Province Apparently Exaggerated.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. HAVANA, July 31 .- The latest news in regard to the alleged uprising in Santiago province is to the effect that the district where the band of sixty insurgents is supposed to be located has been gone over by special agents of the Government, who found no trace of the alleged revolutionists, nor heard anything in regard to the existence of such a band.

Señor Yero, Secretary of the Interior has ordered that the company of volunteers which was enlisted in the Victoria de las Tunas district for the purpose of suppressing the uprising be disbanded.

The Secretary says he is satisfied that no band of sixty insurgents ever existed. There may have been, he says, a party of a lozen men who had been associated with the four bandits killed or wounded by the Rurales a short time ago, and who, when they found that affairs had gone wrong with these men, quietly dispersed. The intention of the men, he is sure, was not to start an insurrection, but to organize for the purpose of robbery. This was frustrated by the work of the Rural Guards. ELECTRICITY KILLS DENTIST. Was Trying to Fix Wire When 1,500 Volts Passed Through Him. Dr. Francis L. Morhard, a dentist, of 291 Third avenue, and a prominent member of Trinity Lodge, No. 12, F. and A. M., was shocked to death by electricity in his summer cottage at Giffords, Staten Island, vesterday.

He went to the cellar to repair a poorly nsulated electric wire, which disturbed the house with a buzzing. The wire was coiled around a nail about six feet above the floor. A swinging shelf hung by wires was near the nail.

Mrs. Morhard found her husband dead on the floor an hour later. His shirt was burned through over his heart and his skull was fractured. Coroner Schaeffer, after an investigation, said that Dr. Morhard must have climbed up on a box to get a better look at the buzzing wire, and in doing so moved the swinging shelf until its wire support touched the sail on which the electric light wire was coiled. As the silk covering of the light wire was all worn away by friction with the sail the more ways baye received. the man must have received a nail, shock of 1.500 volts. The body was brought to New York yes-terday and will be buried on Sunday in Lutheran Cemetery. Services will be held in the Masonic Temple on the same day. Dr. Morhard was born in Geneva, Switzerland, 37 years ago. He was a graduate of the New York Dental and Eclectic Medical He was a member of the Arion Colleges. He was a member Club and the Eichenkranz. SHE SHOT AT THE BURGLARS.

But They Got Away With Her Money and

Jewels Just the Same. The police are investigating a burglarshooting story told by Mrs. Charles E. Shober, who lives in Ninth street, Elmhurst, in the Borough of Queens. Mrs Shober is positive that she shot at a burglar early yesterday morning, and she thinks the bullet hit him

She and a maid were alone in the house Mrs. Shober awoke with a start and heard noise in the kitchen. She went down the back stairs, she says, and saw a man reaching up his hand to put out the gas in the kitchen. Then she fired her re-volver at him. She thinks she fainted at that point.

The police say the burglars had packed up a lot of silverware, which they aban-doned, one bundle having been found in the kitchen and another in the back yard. On the kitchen floor was a bundle of cotton waste, which had apparently been soaked with chloroform. The police didn't diswith chloroform. cover any blood to substantiate Mrs. Shober's idea that she had hit a burglar.

She says the burglars carried away $35 and jewelry worth $450

SEXAGENARIANS HAVE IT OUT. Central Railroad is carrying Rurales to the Lift Heavy Weights and Then Punch Each

Other at Homestead, N. J. John Thompson and James Bamister, each sixty years old, got into an argument at Homestead, N. J., yesterday over their respective ability as heavy weight lifters. With a score or more of their old cronies they went into an open field. For the supreme test Thompson selected a block of soapstone weighing a trifle less than 200 pounds and lifted it a good three inches from the ground, "stumping" Bamister.

Then they had a five-round boxing match, which Bamister won with a heavy blow on Thompson's nose. The champion, when on Thompson's nose. The champion, wher found outside the village tavern last night had discolored eyes, and he was in high "I've not been in training for some time,

The Weather.

The area of low pressure which brought heavy thunderstorms into this section on Thursday was moving out the mouth of the St. Lawrence yesterday and its place was occupied by an area of high pressure which covered all the country east of the Rocky Mountains, with the cen tre over eastern Minnesota and the Lake regions. This high pres-sure forced cooler weather from the North into all the Southern and Eastern States, where the temperature ranged from 2 to 12 degrees lower: It also cause some cloudiness and a few sprinkles of rain in these districts. There were also some showers in the Dakotas and Montana.

It should continue moderately cool to-day in the Atlantic States, becoming generally warmer on In this city the day was partly cloudy with rinkles of rain in the evening; wind, fresh north-

REBUKE TO FATHER PARDOW Jesult Orator Sent From New York to

Take Charge of Priests. It was learned vesterday that a number of important appointments and transfers have been made in the Jesuit order 1 was said last night that Father William O'Brien Pardow, S. J., at one time pro vincial of the New York province, and for several years the leading speaker in the order, has been ordered to St. Andrew upon-the-Hudson, where he will take charge of the Jesuit priests in their fina year of probation. It is said that it carrie with it a rebuke. Father Pardow preached the Lenten course of sermons at St. Patrick's Cathedral. One sermon, on the subject of Gali eo, started a lively controversy. It is said that this displeased the provincial the Very Rev. Thomas Gannon. At any rate, Father Pardow has been sent to St Andrew, where his work will not be tha of the orator.

A significant change is the ordering of Father William H. Walsh, S. J., formeric minister at St. Andrew-upon-the-Hudson to the Italian Church of Our Lady of Lorette n Elizabeth street, which was former This is the first time an American pries This is the first time an American priest has been put over a Jesuit Italian parish.

"From childhood up I had been a coffee and tea drinker and for the past 2 vears I have been trying different physicians, but could get only temporary relief Then I read an article telling how some one had been cured by leaving off coffee and drinking Postum and seemed so pleasant just to read about good health I decided to try Postum in place of coffee. "I made the change from coffee to Postum and such a change there is in me that I don't feel like the same person We all found Postum delicious and like it better than coffee. My health now is wonderfully good. "As soon as I made the shift from coffee to Postum I got better and now all of my troubles are gone. I am fleshy, my food assimilates, the pressure in the chest and palpitation are all gone, my bowels are regular, have no more stom ach trouble and my headaches are gone Remember I did not use medicines at all-just left off coffee and drank Postun Name given by Postum Co steadily.
